

HAPÁG

A Journal of Interdisciplinary Theological Research
St. Vincent School of Theology - Adamson University

Hapág is a peer-reviewed journal of St. Vincent School of Theology - Adamson University.

Hapág is the Filipino word for dining table around which families and friendly neighbors gather to exchange not only food and nourishment but also multiple stories, casual views, and deep reflections on life — all done in the spirit of sharing and openness. This bi-annual review of theological, philosophical, and pastoral researches aims to gather multiple voices in the context of diverse disciplines, plural cultures, and differing faiths in the Asia-Pacific regions and other continents.
